Patient services

Hospice care is provided by physician-directed teams of nurses, social workers, home health aides, chaplains, dietitians, therapists, volunteers and bereavement specialists who are sensitive to the unique needs of terminally ill children and their families.

Hospice care is available for children ages birth to 18 years in the terminal phase of an advanced or chronic illness or condition. While a six-month prognosis is a criterion for admission, predicting a child's duration of life is often difficult. Hospice works with patients, families and physicians to reduce physical and emotional suffering or transition to palliative care, regardless of the child's predicted lifespan.

Our goal is to maximize children's quality of life by providing:

- Comfort care that focuses on pain and symptom management
- Case management that ensures continuity of care in and out of the home
- Age-appropriate psychological and spiritual support
- Assistance in obtaining community resources
- Assistance with personal care needs
- Legacy building
- Access to an on-call registered nurse 24 hours a day, seven days a week
- Individual and group bereavement support during the grieving process

About pediatric hospice

The Pediatric Hospice Program provides palliative care for terminally ill children and adolescents through an interdisciplinary team of compassionate providers. It is not so much of a place, but a philosophy of health care emphasizing symptom management – such as pain control – while helping patients and families cope with psychosocial and spiritual issues. Success is determined by defining goals of care to support each patient's quality of life.

Patient eligibility

For admission to the Pediatric Hospice Program you must:

- Live in Sacramento County, West Sacramento, Davis or Roseville – please call 916-734-2458 for all other areas
- Have a physician who agrees to order and supervise the hospice plan of care
- Agree that care will be focused on palliative (comfort) care
